THE MOST VISITED DESTINATION IS ALSO THE MOST HIGH-TECH.

UNBELIEVABLY REAL

You may know about Orlando's fun-side. But you probably don't know about it's tech side as the nation's top metro for STEM job growth. Driven by a superior quality of life, passionate creative culture and high value cost of operation, Orlando's technology companies continue to propel a dynamic and innovative economy.

5,800+	57,000+	13,000+
Payrolled Business Locations	Jobs in Digital Technology Industries	Annual Graduates within 100 Miles
Lightcast, Q1 2024 Data Set (QCEW)	Lightcast, Q1 2024 Data Set (QCEW)	Lightcast, IPEDS, 2022

FEATURED EMPLOYERS

Deloitte. | EA ELECTRONIC ARTS | FIS | fiserv. | MITSUBISHI POWER | ORACLE | stax by fattmerchant | VERITAS

INDUSTRY ASSETS

Orlando's tech community is enthusiastic about partnership and collaboration.

- UCF Coding Boot Camp
- StarterStudio accelerator and co-working space
- Florida High Tech Corridor Council
- Orlando Tech Council

MAJOR DEVELOPMENTS

- Electronic Arts (EA) Tiburon announces construction of new, 180,000 square foot studio in downtown Orlando
- Lockheed Martin completed construction of its 255,000 square foot research and development facility in under one year
- CentralSquare Technologies hires 240 new workers at the company's Lake Mary headquarters
- Financial Services company CardWorks expands and hires 500 new employees in Lake Mary

TALENT PIPELINE

Orlando is anchored by a university built to help the United States win the space race, now known as the University of Central Florida (UCF). With a history in space exploration, Orlando universities have a long track record of graduating the best and brightest, high tech workforce.

- The Digital Animation & Visual Effects (DAVE) School
- Full Sail University
- Lake-Sumter State College
- Lake Technical College
- Orange Technical College
- Seminole State College of Florida
- University of Central Florida (UCF)
- Valencia College

CONTACT:
Abigail Wagner
DIRECTOR, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
(407) 902-2442   Abigail.Wagner@Orlando.org

KEY LOCATIONS

CENTRAL FLORIDA RESEARCH PARK — Central Florida Research Park is the nation's 6th largest research park located near the University of Central Florida (UCF).

CREATIVE VILLAGE — Creative Village is a digital media-focused technology district in the heart of downtown Orlando co-located with UCF and Valencia College's downtown campus.